As with all approvals of the Gateway Park Design Review Committee (GPDRC), the approvals granted herein extend to the design concepts included in the above referenced submittal ("Plans herein"), but not necessarily to the details contained therein. The applicant is responsible for ensuring that all required GPDRC approvals are obtained prior to construction, and that the actual construction of the Project conforms to the approved Plans and the Declaration of Covenants that Govern the Project and the property.

This approval is valid for a period of one year from the date hereof. If Project construction has not commenced by that date, the applicant must obtain an extension of this approval before proceeding with construction.

This approval is not a representation or warranty by the GPDRC or any other entity that the plans approved herein are in compliance with any contractual limitations or obligations that may apply to the Project. The approvals granted herein by the GPDRC do not in any way relieve the applicant from obtaining any and all approvals required by any governmental or regulatory body with jurisdiction over the Project.
